Di Loreto joins Community First as Chief Risk Officer

NEENAH, WI [Nov. 5, 2024] – Jennifer Di Loreto has joined Community First Credit Union’s Senior Leadership Team as Chief Risk Officer. In this newly created role, she will be responsible for Community First’s enterprise risk management, compliance, fraud and security teams.

Di Loreto has 12 years of credit union industry experience, including the past five years as Chief Risk Officer | Chief Risk & People Officer at USF Federal Credit Union.

“We’re thrilled to welcome Jennifer to Community First,” said President/CEO Cathie Tierney. “Her impressive background and broad range of experience will add significant value to our team, and for our member-owners.”

A Michigan native, Di Loreto graduated from the University of Michigan and subsequently earned a law degree from Detroit Mercy School of Law and a master’s degree in forensic accounting from Florida Atlantic University.

Her strong legal, risk management, compliance and forensic accounting skills stem from 13 years as a private attorney, five years in corporate investigations and three years as a forensic accountant with the U.S. Department of Justice Federal Bureau of Investigation.

“I am excited to join Community First and look forward to working alongside this dedicated team to further enhance risk management practices while continuing to provide a secure and stable financial environment for our members and our organization,” said Di Loreto.

Di Loreto and her husband, David, live in Greenville, WI, have four adult children and two grandchildren.
